Dismiss Evans Pair

Jurors Return 34 True Bills

The March grand jury late today returned 34 true bills after hearing presentments against 47 individuals by District Attorney Royce Holleman since it began deliberations Monday morning when Circuit Judge Leslie B. Grant convened the session.

No true bills were found against Charles L. and Eugene Evans in connection with the pre-Christmas hijacking of a Stieff Brothers wholesale liquor truck but the jury did charge James Blackwell, arrested earlier in the case, with armed robbery. True bills also were returned against three other unknown persons in the case.

The Evans pair had been returned by deputies of Sheriff Gerald V. Price last Saturday to face charges in the hijacking after their arrest more than a month ago in Solano County, Calif.

Serving on the grand jury were Sam Scaffidi, foreman, Horace Christmas, Willie Carbonette, Hayward Ladner, Julius William Olsen, Horace Davis, Jr., Claude R. Graham, A. D. Edward Ladner, Forest J. Goss, Jr., Milton Stoufflet, Earl Ladner, Woodrow Carbonette, Archester Cuevas, Daniel Neelise, J. Norton Haas, Jr., W. O. Peters and Hugh Craft.

One case, that of Bilbo Slayden charged with auto theft, was continued until the next term.

Indictments against other persons either in custody or under bond are: Donald Woodley, attempted jail escape, burglary and grand larceny, two counts; Carl Johnston, attempted jail escape, grand larceny, two counts; Bobby Ray Evans, Donald Lantz, grand larceny, two counts; Zack Blackwell, fondling; Troy Lofton, burglary, larceny; Lloyd F. Sapp, murder, two counts; Bobby Bazar, armed robbery, grand larceny; Michael Barre, Andrew McKay, Rudolph Robertson, Sidney Bell, burglary, grand larceny; and Carl L. Puchon, Benjamin Adkins, Lloyd Welch, grand larceny.

One earlier criminal indictment and several civil suits are scheduled for the spring term. Judge Grant during the first week of the spring term. Gary Don Richter was arraigned and pleaded guilty to a charge of accessory after the fact in the Oct. 23, 1958, robbery of Tony Bourgeois. He is alleged to have aided Robert L. Heath. Sentence was deferred until Monday.

Other true bills were returned against persons not now under custody and their names were withheld for that reason.

Space limitation does not permit printing this week the complete report of the jury, which adjourned shortly after 3 p.m. but it strongly recommended to the board of supervisors that additional offices be provided in the Courthouse even if a bond issue were necessary for financing the improvement. Additional space for the circuit clerk and sheriff were specifically urged.

Patrolling Enforced

Mayor John A. Scaffidi said yesterday that despite reports to the contrary parking meter laws are being enforced.

He noted that the meters are being patrolled and tickets issued for overtime parking. The mayor asked for the cooperation of all residents in regard to the meters.

Mayor Scaffidi observed that while City Commission Council did vote to have the meters removed as soon as possible Duncan Parking Meter Co. has informed the city the meters will not be removed until the one year contract expires. The mayor explained that therefore the meters must remain in operation and parking fees must be paid until the contract expires in June and the meters are removed.

Seek Negro Teenager In Attack on Woman

City and county police are continuing a search, under special orders of Mayor John A. Scaffidi, for a Negro teenage boy who molested a white woman Tuesday near noon.

Several suspects were arrested Tuesday following the incident but the woman, attending a lineup, said the assailant was not among them.

She told police she was at Toule and Main Streets on her way home with a sack of groceries in her arms when a Negro boy riding a bicycle approached her, stopped and got off his bike and started towards her. The woman said that while she thought he was after her purse or the sack of groceries he ignored both items and started molesting her. He fled when she screamed.

The mayor expressed concern for the safety of other females until the boy is caught. He has asked the city and county police to put forth every effort to apprehend him.

The woman described the boy as being about 15 or 16 years old, five feet tall, round faced, dark, and was wearing a grey sweatshirt.

The mayor is now completing his second four year term. Commissioner of Utilities Glover has been in office 12 years. Commissioner of Finance Traub was appointed in 1956 to fill the unexpired term of Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., who resigned following his election as sheriff. Traub was then elected for a full term in 1957.

The three incumbents this week filed with George Stevenson, chairman of the Bay St. Louis Democratic executive committee. Russell Elliott, who previously formally announced his candidacy for mayor, also filed this week.

Clermont School Dispute Is Aired

A dispute over custody of the old Clermont Harbor School occupied the county board of education for almost two hours Saturday morning as representatives of the community's civic association, present caretakers, and the newly formed Clermont-Lakeshore Youth Center, argued the question.

At the conclusion it appeared the civic body will ask to be relieved of custody so the board can, if it wants to, turn the building over to the youth group.

The youth center delegation, headed by Mrs. L. J. Garcia, president, complained that the civic association refused to allow use of the school for any more than one night a week, that being Saturday. It took the position that unless it can use the building all week, a satisfactory calendar cannot be provided.

Leonard Ladner, president of the Clermont Harbor Civic Assn., said his group wanted to cooperate to the fullest in providing wholesome recreation for the young people of the area which includes Ansley as well as Lakeshore and Clermont. However, he contended that it did not seem wise now to grant the youth center complete use of the building until its attendance is established. He noted a number of other groups use the building from time to time.

Walter James Phillips, attorney for the board, pointed to the board minutes of 1957 when the civic association was put in charge of the building with other Rotarians.

Along with the outgoing president, Dr. Walter Russo, they will constitute the board for the coming year and will elect the officers of the civic club.

Along with the outgoing president, Dr. Walter Russo, they will constitute the board for the coming year and will elect the officers of the civic club.

A Real Hazard

Several reports have reached us of half submerged pilings floating out in the Mississippi Sound off Hancock County. Presumably some of these are the result of the present piling removal program.

The removal of the unused pilings is certainly improving the appearance along the seacoast, but when some are permitted to float off they constitute a very real hazard to small craft using these waters.

Unfortunately we are unable to offer constructive criticism because of our own lack of know-how in correcting the problem and protecting against its future recurrence. If any of our readers have the know-how, what about contacting the board of supervisors. We feel confident they would accept to remedy this condition.

April 1 Deadline For Cotton Acreage

April 1 is the deadline for farmers with cotton acreage allotments to release their acreage to the county or to request additional cotton acreage.

For M. Rogers of the Hancock County Agricultural Stabilization office said those with the allotments not wanting to plant cotton this year should release their acreage to the county in order to maintain their cotton acreage history.

Deadline for new cotton growers to apply has passed but those already established can add acreage. The maximum cotton acreage permitted for the county is 40 acres.

Those with cotton acreage allotments who have not yet indicated they are not going to use their acreage for cotton and the number of cotton acres allotted them are: J. C. Lecher, one acre; Marvin Spiers, one acre; Leola Acker, 1.5; David W. Baker, 2.5; John W. Baker, 3.1; Henry James, 7; Cullen Lee, 1; F. J. Lee, 1; Hugh Lee, 1.2; Luther C. Lee, 1.2; Willie Lee, 4.2 and James Neacise, 1. ## Letters to The Editor

The hostility of the radical elements in the North towards the South, had enough as it has been during the past 150 years, has again become almost insufferable.

Is the South that I and my father and my grandfather knew too deaf or dead to hear the SONG OF A CAVALRYMAN, written by me some days ago with the hope that it would stir the finer elements both South and North to array themselves against the Apocalyptic peril?

I would deem it a great honor and service your printing it in the Bay St. Louis newspaper.

One of my proudest indentifications is that I went to a one-room, backwood Mississippi school, in Clermont Harbor, in what to me is the best and most American spot in the world.

Sincerely,
 and with best wishes,
 JULIAN GENELLA
 New Orleans

Song of a Rebel Cavalryman
 If I was born away up North,
 The first thing that I'd do
 I'd hang myself, a Yankee high,
 To start my life anew. . .
 I'd hang myself, a Yankee high,
 To start my life anew.

I'd ask the Lord for one fair chance
 To start out life aright:-
 To be reborn away down where
 The world was warm and bright. . .
 To be reborn away down South
 Where all was warm and bright.

And if the Lord was merciful
 And listened to my plea,
 I'd find myself ariding high
 With the Rebel Cavalry. . .
 With the Rebel Cavalry.

I am just one of your many subscribers, but I think and know this idea is shared by all my neighbors in my area.

I think since the basketball season is over we could honor the players and their respective schools, and teams. I think it would be wise to picture and name all the school teams in this area and their players. By those in this area I mean, Bay High, St. Joseph, St. Stanislaus and Hancock North Central. I give you this idea for the benefit of those who enjoy our local teams and would like to see them honored for such a fine season they all had, and I'm sure the schools would be pleased just as much for the honor as we will be, as just fans.

For 4-H Members Whitfield Donates Seedlings

This week 100,000 pine seedlings are being distributed to 4-H club members at North Central school.

Marion T. Parker, area forester, said the seedlings were donated by Sam Whitfield, local pulpwood dealer, who paid to have them shipped here from Waynesboro.

Parker noted Whitfield said the seedlings are his surplus and he thought the 4-H boys could make good use of them.

The forester and John W. Smith, 4-H club agent, loaded Whitfield for the contribution, adding this will give the boys more of an opportunity to learn and practice forestry conservation.

About 100 boys are each being given 1,000 seedlings to plant on their own or their parent's properties.

Each year Whitfield sponsors one boy to the forestry conservation school.

Over 800 Homestead Exemptions Due Yet

Over 800 more homestead exemptions remain to be filed before the April 1 deadline and county tax assessor George Heitzmann again reminds eligible persons to file at once and avoid a last minute stampede in his office.

"The exemptions are coming in very slowly and to date only 2,300 have been filed," he noted.

I will be looking for the group pictures in the Echo next week, or as soon as possible. Thank you for your consideration. I remain,

Truly yours,
 MRS. C.C. ANTONIETTE
 Waveland.

EDITOR'S Note: Mrs. Antoniette's suggestion we think is a good one, and space and pictures permitting we will try to carry it out in the March 30 issue.)

Reboul, appointed trustees Thigpen, Norton Haas and Clifton Soucier to serve on a joint conference committee with the physicians.
Dr. George Thomas, anesthesiologist, was approved as a member of the medical staff's recommendation.
Steps to secure a blood bank refrigerator were authorized as requested by the hospital's doctors.
By-laws were amended to provide that when the regular meeting date falls on a holiday, the meeting be moved to the following day.
Logue reported some charity patients have said their supervisors promised them a road job to pay off their bill and Reboul directed some statements be secured in writing from the supervisor.
The session ended on a stormy note when Thigpen asked that employees be elevated on a seniority basis. Logue said that had been policy and inquired of the insurance which Thigpen finally said he in the office staff when a was brought in to handle collections and was paid more than the others. "I want to see this thing run politically free if possible," he asserted. Reboul said who he would have recommended for that post from Bay St. Louis Lodge 429.

school on Sundays but it could be used on a Saturday or any other day of the week. Soucier said the fair would be on a Saturday and would notify McCullough at least two weeks in advance.
Soucier also asked that a lot purchased by the school system some years ago be returned to the town of Waveland so a garage could be built. Otherwise he asked for a 99-year lease. Attorney Sam Favre was asked to check legal aspects.

Don McCullough, who was appointed by the City Commission to succeed Mrs. W. P. Henderson, was welcomed and given a brief resume of his duties. McCullough reported on accomplishments in the system's long range improvement program citing the new North Bay Elementary School and improvements to other schools. He said they were entering the second phase of planning erection of a new building to house the industrial arts shop. Members approved an application for state funds and McCullough said city officials had agreed to provide additional funds. State funds will amount to about $32,000 while the city will add about $7,800. The building will be approximately 104 by 34, the arts shop occupying 64 by 34, other space being allocated for class rooms.

The superintendent also announced City Council had approved five more street lights for Bay High.
He was authorized to execute papers which would give the school from Federal funds $85 per student whose parents are employed in defense plants.
McCullough announced work is progressing in securing a AA rating for Bay High and the rating would be reached in two years. All teachers contracts were renewed, 41 being white and 21 Negro, a total of 92 people being employed in the system. McCullough said he needs three more teachers in white schools and six Negroes.

Miss Veronica Mohr, pilgrimage chairman, noted that merchants have been asked to decorate their windows for the event and the city is directing a motorcade to assist visitors' office staff.
"If he's going out collecting, that's OK," Thigpen answered. He said the supervisor from his beat, I. M. Frierson, "has the first time to tell me who to put down here. He told me I was 100 per cent right and to stand by it."

30 Fires Reported

Thirty fires swept across 375 acres in Hancock County last week. Area Forester Marion Parker reports.
He said the worst of the fires were last Wednesday when 10 blazes by winds up to 15 and 20 miles an hour, burned out 181 acres.
The actual loss due to fire has not yet been estimated but Parker said a considerable amount of planted acres, valued at $16.20 per acre, were hit by the fires. Other acreage is figured on the basis of about $2 to $10 per acre he explained.

Hancock Bank Audit Finds Discrepancies

The annual audit of Hancock Bank, Gulfport, by the State Bank Comptroller's office and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. at this time indicates possible discrepancies in the accounts of one of the bank's officers, according to Llewellyn Brown, comptroller. Brown added that the bank was amply covered by a surety bond. On the possibility of violation of federal law the FBI is also investigating.

The complete statement follows: "Llewellyn Brown, State Bank Comptroller, today (Monday) gave out a statement that his department and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. have about completed an examination of Hancock Bank of Gulfport, Miss., which indicates certain discrepancies in the accounts of one of its officer employees.
Court Opens...
delegation huddled briefly with Ladner he offered to terminate the agreement as custodian, remarking that the board probably would come back on that organization if the building is damaged. Orrie immediately offered to post a $1,000 bond for protection of the school.
Mrs. Malcolm Green of Lakeshore called for cooperation to establish a youth center, observing that teenage boys now hang around outside taverns for want for a decent place to go for recreation. "They get in a lot of trouble but the law enforcement people keep it quiet for the sake of the parents," she declared.
Beat 5 Justice of the Peace Russell Elliott said he felt he was among those for the youth center idea, having interviewed both candidates for the Beat 5 board seat last fall before their election on their views toward a youth program. He urged the two groups to work things out amicably.
Trustee S. P. Powell suggested appointment of three trustees for the vacated school might serve better than an organization as custodians. But he and Trustee Alton D. Keller noted the board was not in disagreement over the matter but the two organizations were.
Phillips explained that for an organization to withdraw as custodian it must adopt an appropriate resolution at a meeting and give the board two weeks of written notice.
After the delegations retired, Mrs. Green requested the board to appoint Mrs. Courregge to succeed her late husband as a trustee. She said she spoke in behalf of the voters who elected Courregge. Phillips explained that the board has the power of appointment until the next general election, in November, 1962. He said there is no provision in the law for a special election. Keller suggested a straw vote or petition might solve the board's problem of selecting a successor.
Payment of all docketed bills which are properly signed was approved after a question over purchasing tires from other than the supplier under contract. Case Oil Co., and at prices exceeding the contract bid.
The board adjourned until 9 a.m. March 25 when it is expected to take up faculty appointments for the 1961-62 session.

Seek Persons in Theft of Motors

Police here and in neighboring states are searching for persons who took approximately $2,500 worth of outboard motors from Breath's Boats and Motors, U. S. 90, the night of March 3.
Charles A. Breath, Jr., manager, said entry was gained by breaking a rear door with a tire iron. He noted that more than one person must have been involved because of the weight of the motors.
